When the light went out

JAYANT V NARLIKAR
(Astro-physicist)

I was playing at home when I heard the terrible news. My immediate reaction was of shock and horror. Most of all, I admired Gandhiji's simplicity and firmness of resolve. He gave people the confidence to live up to high ideals.

shocked and couldn't believe it was true. I wondered how anyone could kill the Father of the Nation.

I admired his simple living, high thinking and total commitment to the Indian people, philosophy and culture. He has shown us that sacrifice and love conquers all.